I think justice is color blind. And I think that is why Ronnie Bennett made first-string, AA all-state defensive end, and why Jafus White made first-string, Super-Centex in basketball. They are both juniors, both having a lot to live up to next year.

THC Seeks To Reroute 190 In Milam Co.

AUSTIN

The Texas Highway Commission today initiated action to re-route US Highway 190 in Milam and Robertson Counties.

The change has been requested to provide a higher standard highway facility between Hearne and Cameron.

Changes in US-numbered routes must be approved by the Route Numbering Committee of the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials (AASHTO) which controls US highway designations.

The proposed new route of US 190 would begin at the present intersection with US 79 in Hearne, run concurrent with US 79 southward to its junction with State Highway 36 in Milam County. The new US 190 would run along SH 36 northward to US 77, then along US 77 to the junction with present US 190 in Cameron.

The present route of US 190 from SH 6 north of Hearne to US 77 north of Cameron would be redesignated as Farmto Market Road 485.

The action is contingent on AASHTO approval and would be effective on January 1, 1976.

TJC To Exhibit Schiller Collection

TEMPLE

A photographic exhibit of the works of Larry Schiller of Cameron, Texas photographer specializing in nostalgic photographs, will present an exhibit at Temple Junior College April 7-30.

Schiller's works have been shown in several galleries in Memphis, Tenn.; but this will be his first major showing in Texas, Bryant Reeves, Director of Fine Arts at TJC, said.

Schiller was born in Cameron and graduated from Yoe High School in 1963. He later attended TJC, after which he joined the US Navy, Reeves said. During his enlistment in the Navy, his interst in photography grew and upon his release from active duty, he returned to Texas to study at the University of Texas at Austin and to pursue his interest in photography, he said.

He entered the photographic profession when he joined the Richards Manufacturing Co. in Memphis. A year later, he was asked to join the photographic staff of Holiday Inn, Inc., Reeves said.

While working for Holiday Inn, Inc., he studied advance photography at the Memphis Academy of Art. While studying there, he developed a special interest in the photographic study of old railroad depots, Reeves said.

"His studies of old depots are done with great care and insight," Reeves said.

The Schiller showing at TJC will be open to the public Monday through Thursdays from 8-5 and from 6:30-10 p.m., Reeves said. Scheduled to be presented in the TJC Library, the show will also be open Sunday afternoons from2-5, he said.

A Win With Style...

It was a win with style. The grandson of a Cameronite and son of a former Milam Countian is playing No. 1 singles for Texas tennis powerhouse Trinity University, of San Antonio.

He is Bill Matyastik, grandson of Mrs. W. P. Matyastik, Rt. 1 Cameron, who won the Rice Invitational Tennis Tournament 10 days ago in Houston.

Bill, Sr., a CPA in Waco, also plays tennis. The whole clan plays, including young Walter, about 8, who is starting early like the junior tennis powerhouse at Trinity.

Interesting thing about Bill's final win over the U of H's Ross Walker was its final point.

Bill cracked an ace for the game, set, match, and tournament for Trinity's Tigers, finishing off Walker 6-2, 3-6, 6-2. And Walker was seeded ahead of Matyastik who came into the finals seeded fifth.

The big serve also won the tournament 18 points Trinity to 17 for U of H. It was that close.

Matyastik told the press he wanted that win "for personal reasons." He said, "I was willing to stay out there forever, and do whatever it took to win."

Bill is leading Trinity's traditional tennis powerhouse to a fine season under new coach Bob McKinley, himself a former Trinity champion. Only team loss thus far is to U of Southern California, a traditional national tennis powerhouse.

He has the big game, keeping it under control in the first and third sets to drop U of H's Walker, one of the top-ranked singles players in the country, and winner over Matyastik in two prior matches.

It was a win which put the son and grandson of Milam Countians a bit higher in today's spectacular tennis world, a world in which the Matyastik name will find a place in the next few years.

FML. . .

He Knows Himself...

What is a champion in the modern era?

He's not a robot; he's not just a muscle or a brain; he's not an open nerve; he's not a hibernated moral.

He is part of the action. And he has responses to make the big play time and again, knowing time and again he must deliver time and again.

The big play may be reflex, may be strength or acumen, may be intuition, may be inspiration.

But it is more likely it will be a combination of these, coming together in instantaneous triumph, a constant spark of skill.

A champion this day is suspect because motives are questioned everywhere. But a champion this day is like he always is: capable of delivering the goods with the world waiting to approve or forget.

A champion is a gifted person, the only person who knows his own capacity, and like everyone, the only person who decides how much he delivers.

He knows himself.

Tree Litter

From time to time, when the west wind blew, twigs and leaves from Fred Miller's poplar tree would flutter down into a neighbor's back yard. Resentful, the neighbor finally took the matter into the courtroom.

"It is up to Miller to keep his litter out of my yard," he told the judge. "If there is no other way, then let him cut the tree down."

But the court refused to mix in. Noting that the tree was located entirely on Miller's land, the court said he could not be blamed for the natural process of shedding.

Generally speaking, the law will not interfere with natural growth on private property.

Thus, another man was held entitled to maintain four large maple trees on his land even though they kept a neighbor's house in the shade. The court said his freedom to use his own property outweighed the indirect annoyance to the neighbor.

On the other hand, the neighbor may have a valid complaint when the injury he suffers is more substantial. Thus, when branches actually spread across the property line, most courts give the neighbor the right to chop them off at the boundary.

Furthermore, a neighbor usually has grounds for suit if a tree threatens his safety. Another case involved a badly decayed elm, standing near a back yard fence. The next door neighbor, fearful of an impending accident, warned the tree's owner of the danger—to no avail.

One morning, during a storm, a heavy bough split off and fell across the fence, smiting the neighbor on the shoulder. Under these circumstances, the owner of the tree was held responsible for the neighbor's mishap.

The court said he had no more right to keep a dangerous tree on his property than to keep a dangerous building.

Freedom Train Begins Journey

NEW YORK Reuter--On the first of April, the American Freedom train, a giant steam engine pulling 22 glistening red, white, and blue cars filled with the history of America, began a historic two-year journey in celebratin of the American Revolution bicentennial.

More than ten million Americans will have boarded the train and 40 to 50 million more will have viewed it along the way before the journey is over, according to spokesmen for this extraordinary project. It will have travelled more than 17,000 miles through thousands of communities and will visit 76 cities in 48 states (excluding Hawaii and Alaska)

During its journey, the train will have been within a one-hour driving distance of 90 percent of the nation's population.

In 1947, an earlier version of the freedom train sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation, logged 37,160 miles in its travels across the country--stopping in every one of the then 48 states.

The train, which played host to more than 3,500,000 visitors during its 16 month tour, had seven cars (only three of which housed exhibits), and was painted gleaming white with bands of red and blue.

That freedom train could take in only 640 people an hour and as a result the wait to board was often long and discouraging. For example, on the stopover in New York City, people waited 4 abreast on a line that was 15 blocks long.

However, the new freedom train will be able to carry, on moving walkways, an estimated 10 million visitors through the 10 exhibit cars at a rate of up to 2,000 people per hour over each 14-hour display day. Each visitor will carry a transistorized sound unit which will play a running narration coordinated with the exhibit.

The exhibit cars have specially constructed outside showcase windows that will display selected objects for people to view the train as it passes through their communities , at reduced speed, en route to the display cities.

The interior of each exhibit car will depict various facets of the Amercan experience through two centuries, including the revolutionary period, exploration, cultures, technological progress, professions and trades, sports, and the arts.

The 12 specially-designed cars will exhibit a priceless collection of historical documents, artifacts, and memorabilia gathered from leading museums and historical societies across the country.p These will include, George Washington's cop y of the Constitution, with his marginal notes, Benjamin Franklin's draft of the articles of the Confederation; Pennsylavania's ratification of the constitution; Delaware's ratification of the Bill of Rights; credentials of the Pennsylvania delegates to the Continental Congress, including those of Franklin; moon rocks and moon flag; the first Bible printed in the United States, and the hand-written draft of President John Kennedy's inaugural address.

In addition, the train will have two "Showcase cars," one of which will carry a freedom bell, which is twice the size of the original Liberty Bell. The other showcase car will display rare vehicles depicting a history of American transportation.

The two glass-enclosed cars will be plainly visible from trackside. In addition each of the other exhibit cars will have four giant windows. There are 20 pairs of windows in all, each pair dedicated to a decade in the nation's 200-year history.

The other 10 cars will be used for tools and equipment security, support services, and housing of personnel needed to man the train.

To guard both the freedom train and the historical documents aboard the train, a sophisticated security system has been designed.

Tax Refunds Slated Monthly

Comptroller Bob Bullock announced Friday that monthly rebates of city taxes will start April 15.

"Nothing stands in our way now but the U. S. Postal service," Bullock said.

This first-ever monthly payment will replace the old quarterly payment system with its 90-day lag time which had been in effect since the city sales tax was passed in 1967.

Bullock said that junking the quarterly system "means we've quit burying the cities money in the backyard in fruit jars for three months at a time."

"Now it will be interesting to see what the cities do with it," Bullock said. "ike F. anklin said, a dollar invested is a dollar earned--or at least seven percent."

Payments to 800 towns and cities which have the one percent tax total more than $200 million a year.

The April 15 payments will cover taxes collected by the Comptroller between Feb. 17, the cutoff date for the last payment, and April 4. Future monthly payments will be made at mid-month, Bullock said.

Letters

Dear Sir:

As I marvel, from time to time, at the depth and global perspective of your journalism in the "Cameron Herald," so marvelled I last night (April 1, 1975) at the typical Conservatory "Faculty Recital."

Danny Roy Kelley elevated the spirit of his audience.

In his Brahms, there was the searching of other worlds --worlds of meaning, depth, and beauty. In his Debussy, there was the merger of the ugly and the beautiful wrapped into a band of non regular rhythm. In his Chopin there was the regal splendor. Ah, but in Mozart he showed a mastery of basic piano technique--precision in the passages, distinct articulation--all clothed in exact rhythm. (I spent twelve weeks at the University of Texas with Mrs. Janet Hodges, 8 to 12 hours many days, trying to meet her requirements of the First movement of one of MOZART's Sonatas--the mastery of this one author demands both native ability and many lonely hours of hard work.)

I missed hearing the completion of one passage in the "Andante" of the K. 533, Nevertheless, his Mozart was the most revealing of his musicianship--though justice was rendered the others.

Certainly, this recital of Danny Roy Kelly was comparable to many I enjoy at the University of Texas at Austin by the Faculty Artists--even that of Dr. Race himself.

Sincerely,
Frank D. Walker

MILAM AREA PARADE OF SPORTS

IT's a little frustrating trying to figure out who has what or what has who in this picture, but we are told that the youngster with the rope is Jimmy Kohutek, young fellow with saddle is Mark Michalka, and the boy down under is Brian Cobb. This action took place at the FFA Rodeo. The object of the contest is to saddle the seeer under timed conditions. We appreciate the many calls from the local fans properly identifying former Cameron football coach, L. C. Woods.

NEW INVENTION
THE PERIMITECTOR

Nationwide Scientific, the nation's leader in line-carrier (ac transmission) alarm equipment was recently awarded a U.L. listing for the new PERIMITECTOR alarm system. This unique system provides perimiter protection that scares-off intruders before they set foot inside. The PERIMITECTOR will provide professional security for the first time at an extremely low price by eliminating internal wiring and large labor bills. This new concept is achieved by transmitting the violation signal over the buildings existing a-c wiring through new plug-in transmitter-receiver modules. Result – an extremely effective very low cost alarm system for home or business that accepts all fire and burglar alarm detection devices available.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to express my thanks to my many friends, pastor, family, and loved ones for all kindness and consideration being shown to me during my fiery furnace trial which seems more than I can bear. All cards, letters, flowers, food, gifts, and donors are appreciated. Utmost important are your prayers. KEEP PRAYING.

As the flowers are all made sweeter
By the sunshine and the dew,
So this old world is made brighter
By the lives of folks like you.
May the Lord Bless each one of you is my prayer.

Martha Kirk

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends, relatives, and neighbors for the beautiful flowers, cards, food, and other acts of kindness at the loss of our mother. A special thank you to Green's Funeral Home.

Residents Prepare For Tour

BRENHAM Washington County residents will roll out the red carpet for visitors throughout Texas for their fifth Heritage Tour of Washington County on Sunday, April 13.

The tour, sponsored by the Heritage Society of Washington County, will feature twelve sites in Brenham and Independence. This year, as an added bonus, visitors may enjoy the Bluebonnet Trails.

Tour headquarters, the American Legion Home, 903 North Park, Brenham will be open at 10 a.m. for visitors to purchase tour tickets. At the headquarters, also, patrons may buy an attic treasure or shop at an old-fashioned country store. Items ranging from quilts to homemade noodles and bread will be sold.

Special music will be provided by the Blinn College choir and band for the presentation of approximately 100 Heritage Belles from the Brenham area at 1 p.m. in Fireman's Park.

A new feature on the tour will be an all-day, continuous service, beef barbecue with all the trimmings for visitors at the tour headquarters. Barbeque tickets are $2.75 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. Sandwiches and cake will also be available.

At one of the tour sites, the Giddings-Schell Art Center, the Brenham Art Club will hold its annual Spring Art Exhibit and Sale.

Spices Spark Thrifty Beef

Bone-in chuck, cooked sauerbraten-style, shows how spices can help make budget foods tastier. Thinner than the usual beef cut, bone-in chuck steak needs about 24 hours in a marinade richly spiced with mixed pickling spice, instant minced onion and brown sugar. Beef bouillon makes the gravy and about 45 minutes simmering cooks it to fork-tenderness.

SAUERBRATEN CHUCK STEAK

1 tablespoon mixed pickling spice
1/2 cup white vinegar
7 tablespoons water, divided
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 tablespoon brown sugar
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 pound bone-in chuck steak
1 cup beef bouillon
3 tablespoons flour

Tie mixed pickling spice in a cheesecloth bag. Place in a small saucepan. Add vinegar, 4 tablespoons of the water, minced onion, brown sugar and salt. Heat to boiling point; reduce heat. Cover and simmer 5 minutes; cool. Place steak in a snug-fitting bowl or baking pan. Pour cooled marinade over steak. Cover and refrigerate 24 hours, turning once. Place steak and the marinade that clings to steak in a large skillet. Add bouillon. Cover and simmer until steak is fork-tender, about 45 minutes. Remove steak to a heated platter. Blend flour with remaining 3 tablespoons water. Stir into skillet. Cook and stir until thickened. If desired, add 1/4 teaspoon bottled browning sauce to gravy. Pour over steak. Serve with cooked noodles, if desired.

YIELD: 4 to 6 portions
